KUALA LUMPUR: LYC Healthcare Bhd is setting up the group's third mother and child care centre in Bukit Jalil, Kuala Lumpur.

The company, in a statement today, said it has entered into a tenancy agreement with Ho Hup Jaya Sdn Bhd to lease one retail lot at Aurora SOVO and three retail units at Ho Hup Tower for a combined

The tenancy agreement is for 12 years, split into four separate terms of three years each.

The provisional design for the postpartum care centre is expected to include 68 single en-suite bedrooms and other facilities.

The renovation cost for the centre was estimated at RM5.5mil, to be completed by November this year.

"With the opening of the third centre in Bukit Jalil, the company would effectively be doubling its room capacity and is able to enjoy potential economies of scale savings and strengthen its cross selling of its services across the group," it said.

LYC operates a 33-bedroom postpartum care centre in Plaza VADS, Taman Tun Dr Ismail since April 2018. A second centre, due to open in May, is a 29-bedroom postpartum care centre at The Prime @ LDP Puchong.
